Issue 33

New Offshore Alliance Organiser

The MUA has employed a new Alliance organiser to represent drill rig workers in the offshore oil and gas industry.

Thomas Mayor will replace Glen Williams and will be based in Darwin.

Thomas has a long industrial history and has represented MUA members as a workplace delegate on the wharves for over 15 years.

Thomas will be working with Glen over the next two months as part of a transition to taking over responsibility for the areas that Glen has been managing.

Thomas will also be contacting members over the next couple of months to introduce himself.
